These include but are not limited to: travel over extreme, mountainous or alpine terrain where fallen timber, branches, rocks, roots or other obstacles or hazards, steep slopes or unstable ground may cause falls; travel on, through or beside snowfields, glaciers, crevasses, streams, creeks, rivers, ponds and lakes; encounters with domestic animals including dogs, and wildlife including bears and cougars; and miscellaneous health problems related to over-exposure to the sun, insect bites, fatigue, stress, dehydration, exertion, high altitude and lack of fitness. Additional risks are posed by helicopter travel in a mountainous or alpine environment. Participants may become lost or separated from their guide or party. Communication in the alpine and backcountry terrain is difficult and in the event of an accident, rescue, evacuation and medical treatment may not be immediately available.
